Kevin H. White Views Sales Tax

Massachusetts Secretary of State Kevin H. White is ready to support a limited sales tax.

But to gain his endorsement such a levy would have to be a part of a broad-scale new tax program designed to meet all state and local revenue needs.

The high-ranking Democratic state official made this clear last week.

Mr. White had been opposed to a sales tax.

The tax package Republican Gov. John A. Volpe is expected to submit to the Legislature appears to be within range of what Secretary White says he will support.

Speaking at a meeting of the Massachusetts Mayors' Association, Mr. White said that immediate action is needed to meet the present state and local fiscal crisis.

The new revenue required "is not $150 million, is not $200 million, but $250 million," Secretary White asserted.

Of this amount $50 million, he said, is required this year for a balanced state budget; $100 million for aid to cities and towns; and the remaining $100 million for expanded education. This latter amount would be used to implement the recent Willis report.

Sounding somewhat like a candidate for higher elective office, Mr. White told the gathering that he felt it was his "responsibility as a statewide Democratic official to state my position on this paramount issue. . . ."

He urged organized labor and the Democratic Party to rethink their position on the sales-tax question.

W. S. Co-operative Bank Reports Good Year Record

WEST SPRINGFIELD—Earle C. Harvey, treasurer and executive officer, told the annual meeting of shareholders of the West Springfield Co-operative Bank last week that income in the year ended Dec. 9, 1964, was $836,314—the highest amount in any year since the bank was established in 1897.

The income figure, Mr. Harvey said, was $60,000 higher than the gain in the previous year.

"We have had a very fine year," he told the annual meeting. "And we expect that 1965 will be as good or better. Savings accounts are receiving excellent depositor attention, and there is good demand for home loans."

Mr. Harvey said that during the year West Springfield Co-operative Bank paid the large sum of $605,789 in dividends to its shareholders. This represents more than 72 percent of the bank's income, and is a record dividend payment. West Springfield Co-operative always has sought to have its savers participate to the fullest in the bank's earnings, Mr. Harvey said.

A further advantage of the favorable income picture, Mr. Harvey said, is that it has enabled the bank to maintain the high rate of dividends paid on the various categories of savings programs that are available.

During the year the bank's real estate loans of all types totaled $3,407,700, to bring the total loan portfolio to a record $14,891,000.

Mothers' March Of Dimes Slated For January 26

The traditional Mothers' March, Agawam division of the National Foundation, is now organizing its all-out campaign against the national tragedy of birth defects.

Mrs. Eugene Lund and Mrs.

MRS. EUGENE LUND

Philip Nassif, Agawam co-chairmen, appeal to all residents to support the Mothers' March next Tuesday, Jan. 26 from 7 to 9 p.m. Volunteers are also needed to help cover areas of Agawam on this one night campaign. Doers are asked to contact either chairman.

Is it not an emergency when 250,000 babies (one every seven minutes) is born each year with a birth defect? Is it fair we let this record continue to doom the life of so many to mental or physical disability?

Twelve years ago American women organized to help finance more research toward a polio preventative. Three years later the first immunity was developed, starting a chain of events to lead to 1964—NO new polio cases in Massachusetts. The March of Dimes doers and donors must feel reward and gratitude with this record.

Now to the challenge of birth defects. March of Dimes has already made great strides in providing superior medical care and developing new techniques of treatment for birth defect victims. March of Dimes centers and clinics offering these services are already in operation in Boston and 50 other cities with more in the planning stage. March of Dimes is supporting a massive scientific research program, it is the aim to seek the causes of birth defects and the means to prevent them. March of Dimes continues to care for its polio victims of years past.

The March of Dimes cares about the little children handicapped by birth defects just as it care about protecting you and yours from polio. Do You???

Western Bank Reports Good Yearly Growth

WEST SPRINGFIELD—Western Bank and Trust Company earned 98 cents a share during the twelve months ending December 31, 1964, William A. Franks, Jr., executive vice-president and treasurer, reported today.

Mr. Franks said that at the close of the year Western Bank and Trust's total assets had reached $2,850,300, an increase of $1,052,114 over the figure of $1,808,194 on December 31, 1963.

"Our growth continues," he said. "And on the basis of what has been accomplished I believe that we will attain three million in total assets around the time of our third anniversary in June. This will represent a growth rate of approximately one million each year, made possible by community acceptance of the bank."

Total deposits at the end of 1964 totaled $2,422,296, compared with the 1963 figure of $1,398, 341, and the number of depositors increased by approximately 600 to total 1900.

Loans increased by approximately $650,000 during the year, Mr. Franks said, "representing a good balance of consumer and business loans in the community."

Western Bank & Trust Co. has applied to the Massachusetts Commissioner of Banks for permission to establish a branch office at 1000 Riverdale St. If the

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Chiba

Seven fishing records were broken by Massachusetts anglers in 1964, the Division of Fisheries and Game reports. The seven winners plus nine other fishermen who topped their categories (although they didn't break standing records) in the 1964 Mass. Freshwater Sportfish Awards Program will receive gold pins and plaques from fisheries and game director Jim Shepard at the annual New England Outdoor Writer's banquet in the Hotel Kenmore, Boston, on Jan. 22.

New records include a six-pound, ten-ounce smallmouth bass caught by Harry Desrosiers of Southbridge; a seven-pound, 11-ounce pickerel taken by Lawrence Marble, West Bridgewater; 11-inch bluegill by William L. Meusel Jr., Otis AFB; a 30-inch channel cat caught by Robert Thibodo of Northampton; a 17½-inch calico bass taken by Roger Labier, North Brookfield; a 16½-inch yellow perch caught by Timothy Cahoon of West Barnstable; and Peter Yeske's eight-pound walleye. Yeske, from Northampton, beat his own record for walleyes of five pounds, four ounces, which he set last year.

Instant Fly Rod Fishing
Scheduled for showing to the fishing public for the first time at the New England Sportsman's Show in Boston on Saturday, Jan. 23, is the Cortland version of "Instant Fly Rod Fishing" (just add water!). The Cortland people recognized that new fly rod enthusiasts are always faced with one major problem in getting started—that of assembling a properly balanced outfit. They neatly solved this by putting together in one package a 333 Balance Fly Rod Outfit consisting of 8½ foot tubular glass fly rod, a single action fly reel, a level floating flyline and a tapered nylon leader, all perfectly in tune with each other. Also a handy "how-to" manual titled "Fly Rod Fishing Made Easy." You can see this outfit at the Cortland Booth in the Commonwealth Armory beginning Saturday, Jan. 23.

Official Deer Figures

Commissioner George W. Davis of the Vermont Fish & Game Department has released the official figures for the past regular deer season. The total legal kill (bucks only) for the 16 day season was 14,502, a new record kill. Totals for each county, and they are all represented, follow: Addison 797, Bennington 885, Caledonia 765, Chittenden 398, Essex 427, Franklin 261, Grand Isle 10, Lamoille 528, Orange 2028, Orleans 407, Rutland 2152, Washington 1487, Windham 1647, Windsor 2710. Of the grand total, 28.2 percent of the kill (4094) was made by successful out-of-state hunters. This figure too sets a new record. Visiting hunters represented 30 states and the province of Quebec, Canada.

In Windham County, fourth highest, nearly 52 percent of the kill was by out-of-state hunters. Massachusetts led with 515, Connecticut 198 and then New Hampshire with 54.

Massachusetts again was first with 362 successful kills, then Connecticut with 246, New Hampshire with 127, New Jersey with 50, New York 45, and 15 other states' hunters scoring along with Canadians from Quebec Province.

Registrar Plans

License Photos

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Richard E. McLaughlin said he is thinking of making changes in car driving licenses and plates. He said his office may issue licenses with the driver's picture. Also, use of "reflectorized" plates is being considered. These are license tags which glow from the glare of another car's lights and warn of the nearness of another car in front.

The registrar said photos on licenses would give his office more control over drivers and assure that the holder of the license is the authorized one. Mr. McLaughlin also said he is toying with the idea of opening the registry and its branch offices on Saturday as an aid to persons with weekday jobs.

Approximately 11 million World War II and Korean Conflict veterans have participated in Vocational Rehabilitation and Education programs supervised by the Veterans Administration.

At the last Board of Directors meeting it was voted to purchase a deluxe stretcher for the new town ambulance instead of the one that comes as standard equipment. Chief Grady expressed his thanks to the Club, and stated that this piece of equipment is really needed to assure the comfort of the person transported.

At their regular meeting last evening in the American Legion Home, the Agawam Lions had their ladies as guests and served a smorgasbord prepared and served by the Board of Directors. Part of the menu was two 20-pound turkeys, 1,000 meat balls, and a hunk of beef that was out of this world. Guest speaker was Alan E. Rich, president of the Conn. River Improvement Commission, and he spoke on River Cleanup and Pollution. The general public little knows the amount of work being done in this direction by a few civic-minded people. The talk was very well received and chairman Ray Harris is to be commended in securing such programs that keep the members informed on current events that do not get the publicity they deserve.

Lions Fred Dacey and Ray Harris missed all the cold weather we have been having. They are in Miami attending the National Secondary School Principals Association so that Agawam schools may be apprised of the latest in education technique.

Reservations for the Mid-Winter Conference at the Schine Inn on Feb. 6th must be in the hands of Secretary Duane Stebbins no later than Tuesday, Feb. 2nd.

At the last meeting two weeks ago, 20-year Old Monarch Awards were presented to Norman Roberts and Fred Dacey. This was the same meeting that the Lions had the champion High School football team as their guests.

Contribute $300 To AHS Scoreboard

At a recent meeting of the Committee for the Anderson-Morin Memorial Fund, it was voted to make a donation of $300 towards the purchase of a scoreboard at the Harmon A. Smith Field in memory of Richard Anderson and Richard Morin who lost their lives in a motor accident last year.

The balance of the money collected in the Memorial Fund has been invested to provide an annual cash scholarship award to the scholastic athlete of the year.

Previously, a bronze plaque had been presented to Camp Huckins, New Hampshire in memory of the boys. This plaque will be installed on one of the new buildings to be erected this coming season.

The Gridiron Mothers, sponsors of the Anderson-Morin Memorial fund are grateful for the generous response of Agawam to memorialize these two fine youths.

tory. A major with the 82nd division, he earned the Silver Star, the Bronze Star, the Purple Heart, four battle stars and a Presidential Unit Citation. He holds the rank of lieutenant-colonel in the Army Reserve.

Local TV sports personality Rollie Jacobs will be the master of ceremonies. Among the highlights of the evening will be the awarding of jackets to the Brownies—1964 Western Mass. AA Conference champs.

A roast beef dinner will be served. The affair is open to the public and reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Philip DeForge, ticket chairman, Mrs. Joseph Conte, Mrs. Peter Michalak, Mrs. William Gazillo or Mrs. Robert White. Reservations must be made no later than Monday, Jan. 25.

Gridiron Mothers will also hold a special meeting Monday, Jan. 25, at 8:15 p.m. at the High School cafeteria. All members are urged to attend.

Sweepstakes Bill Offered In Maine

AUGUSTA, Maine — Legislation to create a Maine sweepstake similar to New Hampshire's was introduced last week in the House.

Profits would be earmarked for public education.

The bill by Rep. Richard J. Dumont (D) of Augusta, would create a sweepstakes commission to be appointed by the Governor, and authorize it to hold one or two drawings a year, based on any licensed horse race in the state.

The commission could establish the amount of prizes, with a directive that they bear in mind the purpose of the act—raising funds for schools.

TAX BREAK

The Internal Revenue Service has liberalized its view of business-and-pleasure travel overseas.

All expenses incurred on international travel of fewer than eight days may be deducted under the new law.

The business traveler may also deduct all international travel expenses if the vacation portion of a trip does not exceed 25 percent of the total time out of the United States.

'Mary Poppins' On Capitol Screen

NEW DISNEY FILM

Magical Mary Poppins, "a practically perfect person," is the nearly perfect heroine of an almost perfect Walt Disney film.

Children will adore all two hours and twenty minutes of it. Parents will bask in their children's adoration for having brought them to see it. People without children will revel in the sensation of being a child again. Mr. Disney can't lose.

The secret of the success of "Mary Poppins" is a simple one. It is simply to make grownups act like children. And then there's the magic. Laid on thick. With no explanations. Just magic for the sheer joy of magic.

Take Mary Poppins, for instance, as delightfully depicted by Julie Andrews. All who have read the Mary Poppins books for children know that she can fly through the air like a benevolent witch. With no explanations. Youngsters could not imagine a nicer nanny to fly into their nursery. She is, in fact, everything that Jane and Michael Banks ever wished for.

And from that day onward the most fantastical things happen. When Bert (Dick Van Dyke) paints pictures on the sidewalk, they all step into a picture and there they are — in a pastel world! — dancing with penguins (who are waiters, of course) or singing with the farm animals, or riding to the hounds on the horses from their very own private merry-go-round. What could be more magical than that?

Well, there's the tea party on Uncle Albert's ceiling. Uncle Albert (Ed Wynn) has discovered that nothing enables you to fly so well as a good laugh, so they all tell jokes to keep themselves higher than kites.

"I knew a man with a wooden leg named Smith."

"What was the name of his other leg?"

It's magically incredible how much mileage Mr. Disney gets out of that one.

And there's the chimney-sweep ballet on the London roof tops, with Mr. Van Dyke and Miss Andrews spinning themselves quite breathless.

And the songs. With clever lyrics and catchy tune by Richard M. and Robert B. Sherman. There's that bouncy one sung by Mary Poppins about how a spoonful of sugar makes the medicine go down—cheerful advice for children whose unhappy lot it is to make the medicine go down. And there's the other that Bert sings called "Chim-Chim-Cheree" that moves around hauntingly in a minor key.

Of course there's the children's stuffy father, an unimaginative banker (David Tomlinson) who is finally forced to suspend his disbelief and become a kid again himself. And there's their scatterbrained mother (Glynis Johns) a suffragette (it all takes place back in 1910).

Add to these winsome characters the comedic talents of Hermione Baddeley, Elsa Lanchester, Arthur Treacher, Reginald Owen, and Jane Darwell. Plus the appealing faces of Karen Dotrice as Jane and of Matthew Garber as Michael, the youngsters through whose wide eyes this whole wonderful tale takes place.

All of which explains, in part, how magical a magical film can get.

But don't ask Mary Poppins for an answer. She explains nothing. She simply is.

To get the best of an argument . . . keep out of it.

SQUARE DANCE
PROMENADERS
By Al and Elaine Taupier

Last Friday night we held the first of two Advance Dance Workshops with Dick Mastriani calling. Many Promenaders, plus several dancers from surrounding clubs, enjoyed a lively dance and learned several different maneuvers and also a round dance. Among the visiting clubs were Hilltoppers with seven couples, Belles N Beaus with five couples, Holyoke and Vernon, Conn. The next dance in this series will be held Feb. 19 at Robinson Park School.

This Friday night, Dick Steele will be back at the mike. Dancing will begin at 8 p.m. and we are looking forward to using our new skills. We will be at our regular spot at Robinson Park School this week.

We wish a speedy recovery to Arline DiClementi, past Refreshment Chairman. We understand she has had a short stay in the hospital. Hurry and get well, Arlene, from all the Promenaders.

Something to keep in mind—Feb. 12, Valentine Dance, Agawam Junior High School new cafeteria. Ken VanWestendorp, caller.

A stabilizing factor in the national economy was the distribution of $3.78 billion in compensation and pension payments to 3.2 million living veterans and dependents of 1.2 deceased veterans during fiscal year 1963.

six girls from this portion to compete as one of the 12 state finalists. Finals are scheduled for early this summer.

Any girl who feels she would qualify may acquire an application by contacting the state director: Miss Virginia E. Austin, 5 Woodbridge Rd., Medford, Mass.

In the past many girls have competed and found that, not only do they have the thrill of perhaps winning, but they find that from each competition they make new friends and gain a little more poise and confidence in meeting the public. Applications will be mailed to those requesting them until two weeks prior to the pageant. Entries must be returned with a 5x7 photo not less than one week before the competition.
